May 14 Meeting Topic: Laughter
Speaker: Dr. LaVona Traywick

Please join us at 11:00 a.m. on May 14 as we examine the lighter side of life. Why should senior adults be concerned about humor? You have probably heard it said, “Laughter is the best medicine” and “He who laughs, lasts.” Well, turns out those sayings are true. Humor and the subsequent laughter have many therapeutic effects on the body. Most of us don’t take humor seriously enough. We need to learn to use it effectively and make it part of our life.

Dr. LaVona Traywick is the associate professor—gerontology for the University of Arkansas, Division of Agriculture, Cooperative Extension Service. Her degrees include a B.S. in health science from the University of Central Arkansas, a M.A. and graduate certificate in gerontology from the University of Arkansas at Little Rock, and a Ph.D. in gerontology with a graduate certificate in medical behavioral science from the University of Kentucky. She is a Certified Family Life Educator through the National Council on Family Relations. Dr. Traywick is a published author whose research centers on health behaviors of older adults.

We look forward to seeing you on May 14. You’re also invited to join us for lunch afterward.

Complimentary Lunch

The Wilkes McHugh Law Firm has graciously offered those who attend AANHR monthly meetings a complimentary catered lunch at noon following the meetings. Please feel free to stay for this time of fellowship after our meetings. AANHR thanks Wilkes McHugh for their many years of support for our organization.
Hardly a week goes by in the spring that we don’t turn on the television to hear about a tornado or other natural disaster. Remember Hurricane Katrina and the New Orleans nursing home that was ill prepared to deal with protecting its residents in time of flood. According to a recent USA Today article, “nearly seven years after this memorable hurricane, serious shortcomings still remain in disaster preparedness within nursing homes”. Gaps exist in everything from nametags to identify residents who cannot speak for themselves to transportation to quickly, effectively, move residents away from harm’s way. I recently corroborated with Mike Masterson, Arkansas Democrat Gazette columnist on nursing home issues. Therefore, we are printing his April 17, 2012 column in our newsletter (with permission).

Mr. Harvey, a Little Rock attorney, is a frequent speaker in the area of elder law, estate planning and special needs trusts. In addition to many local events, he has spoken at the National Citizens’ Coalition for Nursing Home Reform in Washington, D.C. and was a featured guest on “Successful Aging with Dr. David” on AETN.

He spoke to AANHR members on April 9th concerning the importance of having a good durable power of attorney. This document designates someone to act in your behalf for medical care and finances. It gives that person access to your financial trust. You would choose someone you trusted with those decisions about your care. A person must understand the document and be able to sign in order to initiate a durable power of attorney. In the event this document was not created in a timely manner, the alternative is to get guardianship of the individual and this is done through the court system with a Judge making the approval of guardian. Mr. Harvey stressed the importance of having this document in place for ourselves and our elder loved ones before it is needed.

Questions were asked regarding eligibility to receive Medicaid and transferring assets. There is presently a five year “look back”, however giving money to a spouse or a disabled child is an excusable transfer. Applicants for Medicaid are limited to $2,000 in “countable” assets. Countable assets include real estate, cash, checking or savings accounts and certificates of deposit. If you are found to have falsified the reported assets, there is a 1 month delay in receiving Medicaid benefits for every $5,000 misstated. Assets protected by law are burial insurance or expenses associated with burial; a car and home would go to the spouse. The basic income limit for Medicaid eligibility is $2,094 monthly.

Mr. Harvey provided those present much valuable information. For further aid in dealing with elderlaw issues one can check out ArkansasElderLaw.com Harvey’s contact info is: 650 S. Shackleford Rd, Suite 400Little Rock, Arkansas 72211Tel: 501-221-3416 Fax: 501-221-2689.

To a parent who loves their son or daughter, a week without word is an eternity.

Boredom, loneliness, helplessness: The three main diseases in a nursing home.
I care! I care what you do with me when I need help. I just want you to explain to me, slowly, so my older brain can process it. I care about my personal appearance, because I know others must look at me more than I look at myself. I care and appreciate it when you remember my name even though it's hard for me to remember yours. I care about what's going on outside my own small world, even if it scares me a little. I care about my spiritual life and want the opportunity to participate in meaningful worship.

I like help with tasks too hard or things too heavy to lift or items too small to manage with my less nimble fingers. I like being allowed to do the things I can still do. I like to be able to choose my food menu within my diet restrictions. I like having a room or a certain area that is just mine. I like some times of privacy. I like to have pictures of my family around me.

I don't like being talked to as a child. I don't like being talked about to someone else in my hearing. I don't like professionals, such as doctors, to talk to a caregiver as if I weren't there, instead of to me, even if I don't fully understand. I don't like change and getting older so I appreciate patience. I can get accustomed to change if I'm encouraged. I care that you care about me!

Steps to take if you find care lacking . . . .

1. Talk to the CNAs on duty for your hall.
2. Talk to the nurse for your hall.
3. Talk to the Director of Nursing or the Administrator.
4. Call the Office of Long Term Care or the Regional Ombudsman.

❖ The Office of Long Term Care Phone in Arkansas is 1-800-582-4887.
❖ Regional Ombudsman contact information complete with a photo of the ombudsman should be posted in a prominent place in your facility. You may also have a certified volunteer ombudsman (CVO) for your facility who might offer advice.
A Brief History of AANHR

In 1995 several letters to the editor about poor conditions in nursing homes were printed in the Arkansas Democrat-Gazette. The writers contacted one another, met, and formed an advocacy group. Invitations to the first meeting in late 1995 went to people in the nursing home industry, Office of Long Term Care, and family members. Officers were elected and the group continued to meet monthly.

Truthfully, there was much disagreement about the purpose and the function of the group. However, that the mission of the group was to improve the quality of care and life for residents in Arkansas nursing homes was never in doubt. All agreed that education of residents and family members about resident rights was paramount. However two factions arose as to how best to promote better care practices. There were those who felt that the way to improve care was to work with administrators and the Arkansas Health Care Association (AHCA) care models, such as a model nursing home. Others felt that regulations and policies needed to be changed and that working through the political process would be necessary. By the end of the first year this disagreement split the group. However a small number continued to meet monthly and with the help of the State Office of Volunteerism, wrote by-laws and incorporated Arkansas Advocates for Nursing Home Residents as a 501 -(c)-3 organization. Later Advocates for Nursing Home Residents, with the same Board of Directors, incorporated as a 501 -(c)-4 organization to allow active lobbying.

AANHR has attempted to educate residents and family members by being available for counseling, providing topical speakers at monthly meetings, speaking to senior citizen organizations and groups, by actively promoting Family Councils, and the publication of information regarding residents’ rights and what constitutes good care. We continue to be active in the National Citizens’ Coalition for Nursing Home Reform.

Our first Resident’s Rights Rally was held in October of 2004 with good attendance and great publicity. This has been repeated annually since.

In June of 2005 we held our first CNA Recognition Banquet honoring thirty CNAs from around the state. For the following five years we honored nominated CNAs from facilities around the state, for their dedicated service. In 2010 we honored more than 100 of them.

On the legislative front we have been successful in setting minimum staffing ratios and requiring that direct-care staff on duty at any time be posted in plain sight on every hall. We have been unsuccessful in fighting tort reform. In 2005 we had high hopes for the passage of a bill allowing surveillance cameras in residents’ rooms only to see the bill amended in such a way as to give all the rights to the nursing home and none to residents. It was defeated.

AANHR is in its seventeenth year advocating. Members sense improvement in care but hope to see much more such as moving from institutional models to individual care.

“A speak up for those who cannot speak for themselves, for the rights of all who are destitute. Speak up and judge fairly; defend the rights of the poor and needy.”
Proverbs 31:8 NIV
Volunteer Ombudsmen Needed

Regardless of whether or not you end up becoming a volunteer ombudsman, your knowledge will increase greatly by attending an ombudsman training session. Volunteer Ombudsman training takes only one day and can make an incredible difference in the life of a nursing home resident. A volunteer ombudsman is authorized to help the residents with any concerns. Protecting the resident’s rights is a priority. The volunteer ombudsman is authorized to take complaints and report things they see that are questionable to their regional ombudsman, who can take steps to remedy the situation. A volunteer ombudsman can make a big difference brightening the life of a nursing home resident. After the day of training and a short orientation period one can become a Certified Ombudsman and can choose to be assigned to a specific nursing home where just two hours service per week is expected. If interested, please contact Martha Deaver at 501-450-7405; she will put you in touch with your regional ombudsman.
