Jan. 14th, 11:00 A.M. AANHR Meeting

Topic:

Coroner Procedures Relative to the Death of a Nursing Home Resident

Speaker:

Gerone Q. Hobbs, Pulaski County Coroner

Former Pulaski County Coroner Mark Malcolm developed procedures for investigating nursing home deaths which was a phenomenal step toward fostering better care for residents in Arkansas' nursing homes. A pivotal legislative bill passed during Malcolm's tenure that required the county coroner to be notified upon the death of a nursing home resident. AANHR has invited Mr. Hobbs to give an update on the foundation that Mr. Malcolm built. Please join advocates at this very informative first meeting of the new year: January 14, 11:00 A.M.

GERONE Q. HOBBS, a native Arkansan, graduated high school from Lonoke High School and is no stranger to Pulaski County and the surrounding areas. His family roots trail deep into the Arkansas soil through his raising and the life of his parents. Gerone is currently the Pulaski County Coroner, having been appointed to that position in July, 2011. However, he has many prior years of experience in the medicolegal death field. Gerone served in the United States Army as a Mortuary Affairs Specialist from 1993 through 1998, receiving many hours of instruction in the areas of recovery, processing and interment of human remains, mass casualty operations in both natural and man-made disasters, and the validation of personal identification processes, to name a few.

Since his service in the Army, Gerone has held the position of Police Officer with the Department of Veterans Affairs, Pulaski County Deputy Coroner, and Pulaski County Chief Deputy Coroner. He is a Registered Medicolegal Death Investigator, Member of the International Association of Coroners and Medical Examiners, Certified Law Enforcement Instructor, Member of American Board of Medicolegal Death Investigation, Member of the Arkansas Coroner's Association, and a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. Gerone is a lover of the great outdoors enjoying hunting and fishing, but his greatest love is for his family. He is the husband of Courtney Hobbs, father of Quincy, Xavier, Ryen, Judyth and Courtlon. The Hobbs family recently experienced the untimely death of their son, Xavier, in an automobile accident.

Share Your Happy New Year With AANHR!

From the President's Desk . . . Martha Deaver

It is time to renew your AANHR membership. (See page 8)

We are beginning a new fiscal year so I'm reminding you it's time to renew your membership. Occasionally I ask myself "why do I stay involved in AANHR". My immediate reaction is that, although my mother is gone and there is nothing I can do now to make her life in a nursing home easier, I can work to make it better for someone else. I can try to correct the things that are still wrong. I think of the thirty years Elma Holder dedicated to improving a situation she KNEW had to be better, the obstacles she overcame in the federal government, the inspiration she gave to me when I last spoke with her, the challenge she gives us all to continue the work she started – AND I GO ON. I hope you will too.

I quote from an article by Donna Lenhoff, former executive director of the National Citizens' Coalition for Nursing Home Reform (NCCNHR). Ms. Lenhoff states that "most of America's 17,000 nursing homes are so dangerously understaffed that residents are needlessly suffering and dying from neglect, while nursing home profits climb amid nursing home corporate scandals over misuse of public funds". This is not just her opinion – she quotes from reports by the General Accounting Office and the federal Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services. We have this information and are in contact with state and federal legislators making them aware of it. We know legislators who have pledged their help in trying to see that minimum staffing is increased to more than 80% of the time. They want to help us improve the training requirements for CNAs which will enable them to do a better job, command more respect from their superiors and the families of their patients and give them the right to a better salary.

We need each and every one of you. If you are still receiving this newsletter and are questioning whether you need to stay involved – PLEASE – reach through your pain and know how much your help can mean to this organization and the many who are tirelessly working to improve conditions for all nursing home residents. Again, I quote Donna Lenhoff who says "if nursing homes were staffed according to the minimum levels reported by the Dept. of Health and Human Services, there would be one certified nursing assistant for every five or six residents during the day. In the majority of America's nursing homes, there is one certified nursing assistant for every eight to fourteen residents. Most families of nursing home residents know the ratio is much higher – especially at night and on weekends". When the burden of doing the job of two or more people is removed from each position, it will be easier to hire and retain good CNAs.

If you can renew your membership for $15 or $20, we will appreciate it. If you can stay active by attending our meetings, helping us make phone calls, writing letters to legislators, or attending legislative committee meetings, that is appreciated also. Either by your financial support or your help in contacting legislators, we need each and every one of you and I appreciate your dedication to staying involved in a cause that must be seen through until we are all satisfied with care in nursing homes.

Complimentary Lunch

The Wilkes McHugh Law Firm has graciously offered those who attend AANHR monthly meetings a complimentary catered lunch at noon following the meetings. Please feel free to stay for this time of fellowship after our meetings. AANHR thanks Wilkes McHugh for their many years of support for our organization.

STARTING A FAMILY COUNCIL

A Booster Club for A Nursing Home's Residents

That Results in Better Care for All Residents and Thus, Each Resident

By Gary Melton, Searcy, Arkansas

During the past several years, I have had family members in two nursing homes. Sometimes I have found the care to be adequate; however, a few times the care was less than adequate and that is unacceptable!

Having recently retired from the military and wanting to improve the quality of care of residents, I thought of starting a Family Council. First, I asked the administration to announce a meeting and help spread the word by posting announcements on doors, talking to acquaintances and posting a notice in the nursing home newsletter.

At our first Family Council meeting we discussed the election of officers, our goals, organization of the meetings and plans for the next meeting. Fortunately, the six people in attendance were persons with a can-do attitude. The vice-president elect is a schoolteacher who has received major awards in her career field, the secretary is a CPA, and the treasurer/staff advisor is a social worker on the staff of the facility.

By the second meeting, I was hearing the questions: "What is a Family Council?", "What does a Family Council do?", "I don't need you to help take care of my love one!". Fortunately, in talking with my Regional Ombudsman she had a movie entitled, "Strength in Numbers, The Importance of Nursing Home Family Councils." The movie became our next program. By working hard and spreading word of the movie, we had 20 present. At this second meeting, we passed a budget of $1000 for the year. We arrived at this amount by deciding on our projects: (1) donate $25.00 to the employee of the month, (2) furnish snacks to the midnight shift, once a quarter and (3) a complimentary meal for each dietary staff member and spouse at a local restaurant. We discovered having our meetings in the dining room was disrupting the feeding/bingo schedule, so we moved to the big, front lobby. Our meetings are from 6:30 PM to 7:30 PM and everyone walking in or out of the facility during this high visitation period is exposed to our meeting. Much work by the leaders was initially required between meetings. For example, our secretary completed the paper work to establish us as a non-profit organization under the U.S. Tax Code 501 (C)(3). This designation allows council members to collect tax-deductible donations for our budget. One local bank agreed to donate a $50.00 savings bond in its name and the Family Council name to the employee of the month for a year. Another member worked with a local artist to have a painting donated for a raffle.

By the third meeting, we were beginning to get comfortable with each other. One of the members always volunteers to furnish the next month's meeting refreshments. We all wear name tags and start our meetings by introducing ourselves and stating our relationship with the facility. Near the end of a meeting, facility staff members present are asked to step outside so we can discuss care issues without any hesitancy. Areas of common concern are agreed on and are submitted in writing to the administration.

The most favorable comments I have had concern starting on time and ending on time. Most people work during the day and are ready to go home but can give their full attention for one hour to a worthwhile endeavor.

If you want to start or already have a council, I recommend the aforementioned movie available from your Regional Ombudsman or the AANHR. In addition, I recommend the publication, "The Family Council Guide" located at www.medicaid.state.ar.us. This publication is a guide to organizing and maintaining an effective family council.

NO LONGER TOP DOG – BUT STILL GOING STRONG

(written from a dog's perspective)

My name is Dolly Sue, and I am a Golden-doodle (a cross between a golden retriever and a poodle). I live in Little Rock with the Smith family. My owner is Connie Smith whose son, Jordan, lives in Charleston, Arkansas at Greenhurst Nursing Center. One of my responsibilities as Connie's pet is to accompany her when she visits Jordan. In the past, when we would arrive at Greenhurst, I would follow her into the center, greet the residents, walk around trying to find food, and sit still if someone wanted to pet or admire me. When Connie and I would see Jordan (who was usually in his wheelchair beside the nurses' station), our eyes would light up, and I was reminded, once again, how much we both love him. Jordan usually would respond to us with a smile, and I have always thought that he was not only happy to see his mom, but happy to see me, too.

In the past year, however, my duties have changed during these trips. I no longer go into the nursing center when she picks up Jordan to wheel him back to our apartment (which is located beside the nursing center). Because now, there are five dogs that live in the nursing center, and they are never thrilled to see me. In fact, if I try to enter the building, I am usually greeted by a barking dog that reminds me that this is not my home, but theirs. I would like to meet these dogs personally and tell them that I am not a threat. However, so far, that has not been possible. Connie has explained to me that this is their territory, and they are doing their job.

Since I was interested, Connie told me about the dogs that now live at Greenhurst. There is Daisy, a female dachshund. The husband of one of the nurses rescued Daisy and brought her to Greenhurst. Eva McDaniel, 79 years old, fell in love with her and said, "Please can I have her?" Daisy was five weeks old at the time. The staff helps take care of Daisy, and she has only known Greenhurst as her home. "Billy took her outside last night and she heard her first coyote. Liked to scared her to death." Eva says Daisy is spoiled rotten. Patty, Eva's daughter, makes "dog chow" (Chex mix coated in chocolate with powdered sugar) which Eva gives to the staff saying, "It's from Daisy." Eva came to Greenhurst three years ago, has been doing appliqué and needlework for years, creating over 50 Christmas stockings! She recently completed a tree skirt and is donating it to the Greenhurst Family Council to auction off as a fundraiser. Eva was the Greenhurst Valentine Queen in 2011 and competed in the state pageant in Little Rock.

The next dog to arrive at Greenhurst was Hippy, a 12-year-old Chihuahua who belongs to Bill (82) and Aleta (80) James, who have shared a room together since their arrival in April 2011. They got Hippy from their daughter when he was four months old. "My daughter had to work and she would leave him locked in the bathroom. He tore everything up so she asked us if we wanted him. We got another female Chihuahua after we got Hippy, and together, they had 22 puppies." The female died several years ago. You rarely see Mr. James without Hippy riding in his lap, but Aleta says, "Hippy's not partial to one or the other." Hippy is now blind, but continues to be a constant companion for Bill and Aleta.

Charlie Brown, a Maltese, was the third to arrive at Greenhurst. He is 13 ½ years old, and Freddie Kate got him when he was just three weeks old. Years ago, Freddie Kate, age 91, used to be the dietary supervisor at Greenhurst. Later, she earned her LPN license and worked for 20 years at Greenhurst as an LPN until her husband was diagnosed with bone cancer. Freddie Kate says, "if Charlie Brown could sit in my lap all the time, he would be right there. He has allergies and when he coughs, I have pills I give to him." Freddie Kate is forever the nurse . . .and now, Charlie Brown is the beneficiary.

Lacey, a 6-year-old “Mountain Cur” (a type of working dog that is bred specifically for treeing and trailing small game like squirrels and raccoons) belongs to Larna Powell who is 74 years old. A friend gave Lacey to Larna when she was 6 weeks old. Prior to coming to Greenhurst, Larna lived in Bloomer, AR. Her husband died in 1962 and Larna worked in housekeeping at Sparks Hospital and St. Edwards Hospital in Fort Smith. Lacey is well behaved but a “one person dog.” She has a long scar down her front leg because a big dog attacked her.

The most recent dog to make Greenhurst his home is Boomer, a Maltese, belonging to Mary Hammond. “He’s 10-12 years old. My husband and I lived out in the country near 6-Mile Creek and someone dropped him off in our pasture. I ran an ad in the newspaper but no one ever claimed him. He was just a baby pup.” Mrs. Hammond is 90 years old, and her husband of 71 years, died three years ago. “Boomer has always been a lap dog, but he used to run outside and play and would come scratch on the door when he wanted to come back in.” He loves everyone. Mary has always been a housewife. Her mom and dad died by the time she was 10-years-old and so she ended up staying with an elderly couple. “They were old and needed a lot of help. I milked the cows, cleaned the house, and cooked until I got married.”

It was really helpful for me to hear these stories. Now that I have gotten to know a little about the dogs at Greenhurst, I am more willing to give up my presence in the nursing center. I have learned to be content with the visits I have with Jordan at our apartment. I enjoy having the three of us together, watching TV, and visiting, plus I still have important responsibilities. I lick Jordan’s wheelchair clean (when his tube feeding leaks), and position myself very close to him so I can protect him, relate to him, and even sense when he is going to have a seizure. So, even though I miss my routine visits inside the nursing center, I am willing to adapt to just being with Jordan at our apartment. I know how important it is to feel the companionship that the dogs have with their owners. Where would I be if I did not have Jordan and the Smith family? Lost and alone.
